Forensic Accounting Services

Offering you a broad range of forensic accounting services, including litigation support and investigations.

Litigation support

At Morley and Scott, we pride ourselves on the quality of our expert work. We believe it is essential to provide reports of a consistently high quality, which are in line with current Court practices and which comply with your deadlines, however tight. A quality service, at very reasonable fees.

- Matrimonial
- Personal injury and fatal accident
- Professional and medical negligence
- Director disqualification
- Police and Criminal cases

Investigations

Our investigation services include:

- Fraud investigations
- Insurance claims
- Business interruptions and loss of profit claims
- Forensic investigation and reconstructions
- Share, business and partnership valuations
- Back duty tax investigations
- Shareholder dispute

Investigations, using forensic accounting techniques, can be used to trace assets, attribute liability, uncover or recover evidence and to provide status reports. Forensic accounting techniques can also be used to quantify damages in resolving commercial disputes and insurance claims.

Appointers

We generally receive instruction from major legal practices but have also had appointments from the president of the ICAEW; the Solicitors Indemnity Fund and several police constabularies.
